OUR SWATOW LETTER

No Smoking In Post Office

PREVENTIVE SERVICE RUMOUR

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Swatow, Aug. 26.
In my last letter I reported the appointment of a new Mayor for Swatow; to-day I can add the installation of a new Chief of Police in the person of one Mr. Teng who, until recently, was connected with the Municipal Office. It would appear that previous experience does not matter much so far as appointments on high positions are concerned; if you only have a bit of "pulling," everything is plain sailing.

I much regret to say that the numerous provincial taxes are still being enforced despite Nanking's desire to cancel same. The tax on imported foreign rice has gone for good, but then the Customs now levy import duty to the extent of C.O.V.—1.65—per quintal. Whereas Japanese importers have all along ignored the local rice tax the collection of duty by the Customs House brings each and every trader on equal footing and reduces the chances of competition to a minimum.

AN INNOVATION

An innovation, setting a national example, has been instituted by the Chinese Post Office. Beginning from last week members of the staff are prohibited from smoking during office hours and in office premises. The restriction may be found trying and pretty unbearable at the commencement, but, in course of time, possibly many will have given up smoking on rely.

Rumour has it that the same ban may be extended to all other government organs and departments. The restriction is said to be one of the several principles of the New Life Movement to be adopted in China.

TO BE ABOLISHED?

Another rumour gaining ground is that anent the Government Preventive Service. Some say it will be abolished altogether; others maintain they will continue to function, handing over to the Customs House whatever smuggled goods they seize and not auctioning same as usual. Wait and see.

A government ban to be enforced from September 1, and which is accompanied by much importance, significance and excitement, takes the form of the stopping of all kinds of gambling, and opium smoking in town. The unwholesome game of mahjong also comes in the category of gambling, and how much this most popular and favourite pastime will be missed can be better imagined than described, whether in restaurants or private houses and residences. The vernacular papers devote much attention and space on the matter, and already the forms of punishments have been published. Any person found gambling is liable to a fine of $2,000 or, in default, two years imprisonment. When mahjong is proscribed the restaurants may as well close their doors, for the percentage of frequenters who indulge in this game comes close to 95.

MONETARY LOSSES

The monetary losses will be immense; what is to be done with the big number of mah jong sets, which are let out for hire at 20 cents per hour by the small shops; and how about the "kongas" which have invested the money in selling these cards. Landlords are liable to have their property seized if gambling is found in the houses they lease—whether for residential purposes or for the specific purpose of gambling. The subject is discussed everywhere, and I gather people, in the meantime, are making the best of it for in a few days hence prohibition will come in force.

It seems there is no demur about "fan tan," though hundreds of houses run the game. Meantime accounts are being liquidated; one is led to wonder how employment can be found for the then ex-employees which run to at least over a thousand in number.

During August 29.99 inches of rain were recorded the Botanic Gardens. Of this total 8.68 inches fell on August 1, 4.21 on August 3 and 2.94 on August 16. There were only 11 days on which no rain fell.

CHINESE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

CONTINENT WANTS AGENTS

The 9th monthly committee meeting of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce was held at the Chamber's Board Room, Connaught Road Central, yesterday afternoon, when the Chairman, Mr. Li Sing-kul presided. He was supported by Mr. Wong Mow-lum, Vice-Chairman and Mr. Tso' Hok-yue, Secretary.

Other members present at the meeting were Messrs. Tang Shu-kin, Chang Lan-chow, Lau Yuk-wan, Yeung Shu-cheong, So Chiu, Fung Ki-cheuk, Yung Koon-man, Fung Shuen-po, Chiu Chiu-fan, Kok Chin, Au Chak-sum, Chu Shu-wah, Mak Lin, Law Kow-mow, Kwong Kong-fuen, Chan Chung-chi, Ho Chung-nam, Chow Sing-chi, Lui Yam-shuen, Sin Pul-kwan, Hang Yuk-ming and several representatives of the various business associations and guilds.

AGENTS WANTED

After reading correspondence and reviewing the business of the last month, the Secretary informed the meeting that during that time, the Chamber had received many letters from the different firms and manufacturers in Canada, Norway and Glasgow, Scotland applying for recommendations for reliable local Chinese agents and influential representatives for their products. He added that replies to the above mentioned requests had already been sent.

As to the letter sent to the Chamber by the China Steam Navigation Co. (Hong Kong Branch), requesting the co-operation of the Chamber in the re-organization of the Company, it was decided that all members of the Chamber should do their best to assist in furthering the interests of this Company.

CHARTER'S SCHOLARSHIP

With regard to a letter sent by the Hong Kong General Chamber of Commerce requesting the appointment of a committee of three members to attend to matters connected to the late Sir Paul Charter's Hong Kong University Memorial Scholarship, it was decided to appoint the Chairman, Mr. Li Sing-kul, the Vice-Chairman, Mr. Wong Mow-lum and the Secretary, Mr. Tso' Hok-yue for this purpose, and that a special meeting will be held in the hall of the Chamber to-morrow for the examination of the five applicants for the said scholarship.

WELCOMING MARSHAL CHIANG
During the meeting it was decided that the whole Chinese community of the Colony should form a Welcoming Committee to take advantage of the opportunity of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's presence in Canton to invite him to pay a visit to Hong Kong.

Referring to letters sent to the Hong Kong Telephone Co., Ltd., Hong Kong Electric Co., Ltd., and the Hong Kong and China Gas Co., Ltd., requesting them to reduce their rates and charges, the Secretary informed the meeting that replies had been received giving reasons for their inability to make such reductions, but after a short discussion, the committee decided that letters should again be sent to the above mentioned companies through the Chinese representatives in the hope of that they might receive favourable reconsideration.

CONGRESS OF REPRESENTATIVES

Regarding the election of a Chinese representative to represent Hong Kong in the Congress of Representatives to be held in Nanking in November next, the Chairman suggested that the Chamber of Commerce should be temporarily used for electing purposes. The suggestion was approved.

No other matters of importance were discussed, and at the conclusion of the meeting, the Secretary declared that during the last few weeks, several new members from the different firms and manufacturers had applied to the Chamber for membership. On the proposition of Mr. Ko Chung-nam, seconded by Mr. Kok Chin, the applications were unanimously passed by those who were present. The meeting then concluded.

POLICE OFFICERS RETURN

Mr. K. Bidmead, Assistant Superintendent of Police and Sergeant H. Moran, Police finger print expert and photographer, and Mrs. Moran, returned to the Colony yesterday aboard the P. and O. liner Ranpara from England.

DOLORES DEL RIO PLAYS HAVOC

Practices Knife-Throwing In London Hotel

Dolores Del Rio, co-starring with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in the forthcoming Criterion production, "Accused", played havoc with the traditions of the sedate Claridge Hotel in London recently. Every day for two hours she indulged in the practice of knife-throwing. Using her large sitting-room as a practice-range, or if you will, a laboratory, Miss Del Rio prepared for the sequence in the film in which she is required to heave a long and flashing meat-cutter or two. A tall board was erected at one end of the room, and in four days the star learned to toss a knife so that it would land within two inches of its intended destination. Miss Del Rio undertook the study of the fascinating science—or would you call it sport?—under the tutelage of Jack Carson, claimant to the title of "The World's Champion Knife Thrower."

SPECIAL BUFFET DISHES

Dishes that look cool and colourful and are easy to eat are wanted by party hostesses. Every woman possessing a pretty garden makes it a background nowadays for her entertaining, and is introducing a note of greater individuality into the choice of fare for the outdoor buffet.

Tempting little savouries discovered at cocktail parties, and fresh fruit prepared in ways that simplify the problem of serving are dishes on which the garden hostess is concentrating this year.

The cocktail stick gives a jaunty modern touch to the buffet; it makes its appearance as a handle to stuffed fruits, piquant little savouries and even sandwiches.

The new way of serving fresh fruit and fruit salad at garden parties is in jelly, using the juice as flavouring, so that it no longer provides to-day a problem in skilful management.

Here are suggestions for the garden party menu that have been tried out successfully at outdoor functions.

IDEAS FOR THE BUFFET

Drinks.—Iced coffee; cider cup; lemonade.

Ices.—Vanilla; strawberry; sundae.

Savouries.—Tiny lobster cutlets. Serve on dishes which have been lined with maiden hair fern.

Very small eclairs with fillings such as caviare, salmon finely chopped and mixed with thick cream and chopped parsley, chopped egg and tomato mixed with salad cream; minced ham—with sieved cooked green peas mixed with butter; for another filling pound together 3ozs cheese, 1oz butter, a little mustard, 6 anchovies and a little ham.

These fillings are also most useful for sandwiches.

Three different kinds of savouries served on cocktail sticks.—One olive, 1 prawn, 1 pearl onion. One very small plain biscuit on top of sticks; under biscuit a piece of cheese the same size; under cheese a piece of celery. One anchovy, 1 forcemeat ball, 1 piece broiled chicken.

Other Dishes.—Salted almonds, freshly salted; potato chips; small sausages; cheese straws; cheese butterflies.

Cheese butterflies are made from cheese pastry cut to the size of half-crowns and baked. Mix together cream cheese, a little cream and chopped parsley. Pipe through rose finger on to biscuit. Decorate with a few sprigs of mustard and cress.

FRESH FRUIT SALAD

Arrange slices of oranges, apples and bananas alternately in a large dish. Sprinkle well with sugar, then pile tinned cherries, strawberries and raspberries on top. Over the whole pour a lemon jelly.

Let the salad set thoroughly, and just before use decorate with dabs of clotted cream and large strawberries.

This salad can be made in individual sundae glasses if preferred.

LITTLE SAVOURY CAKES

Ingredients required: 4oz of cold chicken, 4oz cold boiled ham, 2 yolk eggs, 4oz cold mashed potatoes, 3 tablespoonfuls of fine breadcrumbs, half a teaspoonful of lemon juice, pinch of cayenne and salt, teaspoonful of chopped parsley, a little milk.

Mince chicken and ham together. Mix thoroughly with potato, breadcrumbs, lemon juice, parsley salt and cayenne and beaten yolk eggs. Roll out like pastry on a floured board. Stamp into small rounds and fry in boiling butter until golden brown.

Serve in paper cases with a cherry stick pierced in the centre.

BANANA MUFFINS

Banana muffins are simple to make and most attractive at garden parties. They are particularly popular because they can be held in the hand and eaten without a plate and are not sticky. Take 1 cupful sieved bananas, 4 tablespoonfuls butter, 5 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1 teaspoonful nutmeg, 1 cupful brown sugar, 1 cupful milk, 2 cupfuls flour and 1 egg.

Beat sugar and butter to a cream. Stir in banana pulp and mix well together. Stir in flour, sifted with baking powder and nutmeg, alternately with the milk and beaten egg. Beat well. Bake in well-greased muffin pans in a moderately hot oven for 25 minutes.

When cold ice the tops with water icing. When set pierce holes with a skewer.

MINT SALAD SANDWICHES

Mint salad sandwiches are easy to prepare and refreshing to eat.

Sprinkle some fresh lettuce leaves with finely chopped mint and season with pepper and salt. Add a few drops of lemon juice and place the prepared lettuce between thin slices of brown bread and butter. Cut into neat shapes after removing the crusts.

TOMATOES

Should Be Eaten Oftener

Few vegetables are more appealing or valuable as articles of diet as the rosy red tomato. And how decorative the tomato is! It brightens up a dish wonderfully when added as an embellishment and food that looks nice is always more welcome than food that doesn't. Tomatoes are easily grown and are always available in the market.

Below are a few ways of serving this valuable fruit.

TOMATO SOUP

Two pounds of tomatoes, two ounces of bacon, one ounce of dripping or cooking butter, one ounce of sago, one carrot, one onion, one stick of celery, one quart of stock, a small bunch of parsley, salt and pepper.

Cut the bacon into small pieces and fry it in the dripping for a few minutes. Wash and prepare the vegetables and cut them up into small dice; fry them in the dripping for about ten minutes; next slice and add the tomatoes, and also the stock and parsley. Put the lid on the saucepan, and cook the contents until they are tender, then rub them all through a hair sieve; put the soup back into the pan, and bring it to the boil, then sprinkle in the sago. Let the soup boil till the sago is quite clear. Season the soup nicely with salt, pepper and a tiny quantity of castor-sugar. A little milk or cream may be added. Also small dice of fried bread as a garnish.

TOMATO SALAD

Choose firm tomatoes of a good colour and even size. Place them in hot water for a minute or two, then remove the skins and leave them to cool. To serve, slice the tomatoes thinly and arrange them attractively in a salad dish, and sprinkle with finely chopped parsley and shallots. Cover with French salad dressing, and stand on ice for a few minutes before serving.

TOMATO OMELET

Cut two or three ripe tomatoes into pieces and cut a small shallot into very thin slices. Melt a little butter in a frying-pan and cook the onion and tomato for ten minutes. Keep the mixture hot and pour it over the surface of an ordinary savoury omelet just as you are turning it out of the pan. The omelet will roll over its own accord enveloping the tomatoes as it passes into the dish.

TOMATO AND ORANGE SALAD
Peel two firm ripe tomatoes and two oranges and cut them in thin slices. Arrange lettuce leaves in a salad bowl with the tomato and orange slices on the top. Pour over them dressing made by blending together two tablespoonfuls olive oil, one tablespoonful of orange juice, a little tarragon vinegar, salt and cayenne pepper. Sprinkle with finely chopped parsley before serving.

"THE RETURN OF SOPHIE LANG"

Those of you who remember Sophie Lang's first screen appearance two years ago, in the whirlwind story of stolen diamonds and hearts, "The Nocturnal Sophie Lang," will find Sophie even better screen entertainment in her second appearance "The Return of Sophie Lang" which opens to-day at the Queen's Theatre.

The "Return of Sophie Lang" features Gertrude Michael, star of the earlier film in the title role. The story begins with the reappearance of the most notorious feminine diamond thief of all time, long thought dead by police of two continents. Reformed, she has become the companion of an elderly woman, Elizabeth Patterson, who spends her wealth in collecting jewels.

Miss Michael and Miss Patterson set sail for America with the priceless Krueger diamond. Aboard ship Sophie meets her former companion-in-crime, Sir Guy Standing, who gets the stone.

The means by which Miss Michael regains the gem for her employer, clears herself of suspicion and brings her romance to a happy conclusion, make the balance of the story.

"BARBARY COAST"

Samuel Goldwyn's "Barbary Coast" comes to the Oriental Theatre for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with Miriam Hopkins, Edward G. Robinson and Joel McCrea in its leading roles.

Around the building of America's last frontier after the California gold rush of 1849, Charles MacArthur and Ben Hecht have written a romantic and glamorous story of a love that flowered and flamed amid the tumult and treachery of a gold-mad city of love-hungry adventurers from every corner of the globe.

Miriam Hopkins is more fascinating, more beautiful, and more effective than ever before as Swan, who reigns over the crooked roulette wheel in the notorious Bella Donna cafe, run by Louis Chamaille, a man as ruthless as he is powerful. Robinson has his finest characterization as this "Public Enemy No. 1" of the Barbary Coast, and Joel McCrea is splendid as Jim Carmichael, a fine, idealistic young miner, who enters Swan's life and transforms her by his love.

"Barbary Coast" is thrilling entertainment.

"SINS OF MAN"

Jean Hersholt contributes another immortal characterization, worthy to stand in the screen's Hall of Fame beside his famous portrayal of "The Country Doctor" in "Sins of Man," the Darryl F. Zanuck Twentieth Century production which opens to-day at the King's Theatre.

Vibrant with drama, the picture is a stirring story of a father's struggles and temptations, his sorrows and triumphs. Building in an ever-sweeping crescendo of emotion to its dynamic climax, it left the entire audience smiling, mistily through tear-dimmed eyes.

Jean Hersholt is in the leading role supported by Don Ameche, a new find, and Allen Jenkins.

FILM STARS ARE WORTH MILLIONS

CHAPLIN THE RICHEST

When Hollywood's film actors pay their 1936 taxes on jewellery it is Harold Lloyd who has to write the biggest cheque.

Records of the county tax collected just issued show that the Lloyd collection is valued at $20,000, just $3640 more than that of Norma Shearer, the leading jewel-owner among the actresses.

Joan Crawford's jewels are valued at $2000, and those of Joe E. Brown and Tom Mix at $1500 and $1000 respectively.

Mae West the "Diamond Lil" of the screen, has her collection assessed at $700.

Harold Lloyd also ranks as the greatest real estate holder among the film colony, as well as having the most valuable furniture. His furniture is assessed at $15,000.

Charles Chaplin is listed as the wealthiest star and Mary Pickford as the wealthiest actress, but a change in the law conceals the greater portion of their wealth.

This year their stocks and bonds were not reported. They have become exempt from assessment since State income-tax became operative in California.

Last year Chaplin reported $498,962 in stocks and bonds. Mary Pickford reported $257,932. Norma Shearer reported $58,460, Richard Barthelmess $51,674 and Constance Bennett $20,894.

BARBARYMORE'S YACHT John Barrymore has staged a "come-back" on the assessment rolls.

Last year he was down to his last yacht with a total taxable valuation of $11,315, of which $11,270 was his boat Infante. This year his total is $17,292, embracing real estate and personal property in addition to his yacht.

Other assessment figures were:

Charles Chaplin	$125,280
Harold Lloyd	$80,945
Mary Pickford	$47,178
Richard Barthelmess	$22,046
Douglas Fairbanks	$12,602
Constance Bennett	$12,102
Joe E. Brown	$11,866
Gloria Swanson	$6,772
Norma Shearer	$5,372
Ruth Chatterton	$5,471
Ann Harding	$5,834
Joan Crawford	$6,554

INTERNATIONAL FILM EXHIBITION

First Prize To Germany

Venice, Sept. 2. Germany secured the first prize at the 4th International Film Exhibition with Luis Trenker's film "The Emperor of California," also winning two further prizes and 5 medals with other films, thereby gaining the "largest number of prizes of any nation represented."

The prize for the best direction went to the French Director Feyder for "La Kermesse Heroique," and for the best photography to the British film "Tudor Rose."

Annabella was voted best actress of the year for her performance in "Veilles d'Armes," while the prize for the best actor went to Paul Muni for the film "The Life of Luis Pasteur."

Two Italian films, one "March of the Heroes," dealing with the Abyssinian war and "A Glimpse at the Bottom of the Sea" won the first prizes as best political and scientific films respectively.—Transocean News Service.

ADMIRAL FOWLER DEAD

Was A.D.C. To Late King After Notable War Service

The death of Admiral Cole Cortlandt Fowler, "after a long illness gallantly borne," was announced recently. He had been living at Enborne, Newbury, Berkshire, and was 70.

During the European War Admiral Fowler commanded the battleship Collingwood in the Grand Fleet during 1917-18, and he was A.D.C. to King George in 1918. On his retirement in 1922, after serving in the Royal Navy for over 40 years, he received the C.B. France honoured him with the Legion of Honour.

Admiral Fowler was the son of the late Major-General C. J. Fowler, of Spilsby, Lincolnshire, and was married to Miss Inez Gertrude Paget, daughter of the late Mr. Berkeley Paget.

REPRIEVE FOR MAN TWICE CONDEMNED

Sentence of death passed in Wellington, New Zealand, on Eric Marco, the London musician and composer, who was found guilty of the murder of his wife by poisoning her with veronal, has been commuted to life imprisonment.

Marco was convicted in February and sentenced to death. A second trial was granted on the ground that new evidence had come to light.

The second trial, which took place in June, lasted 14 days, and Marco was again found guilty and sentenced to death.

On this occasion the jury made no recommendation to mercy, as at the first trial.

Before being sentenced at his second trial Marco's comment was:—"It is very hard to say anything in the circumstances, as it is the second time I have been through the terrible ordeal of hearing the sentence of death passed on me."

Marco is understood to have been an organist for some years in London cinemas.

He had studied at the London Guildhall School of Music, and in France and Germany.

He composed a fox-trot called "Prison Patrol" while awaiting trial to raise funds for his defence.

JAMES "SWENONIS"

Geneva's Home For Students Houses Many Nationalities

STARTED ON A 'SHOE-STRING'

Founded In Historic Street In Geneva

Among the most interesting organizations whose purpose is to look after the welfare of students from all parts of the world in this international centre, is that which has been recently founded in an old house in one of the historic streets of the city. It is called the "Maison Internationale des Etudiants," and has grown out of the "Union Internationale des Etudiants" which had its home on the outskirts of Geneva. The latter was made possible largely owing to the work of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hadden of the United States. Circumstances, however, this year suggested the need of a new institute, and it is no exaggeration to say it was started "on a shoe-string."

It was when the well-known British historian Dr. G. P. Gooch visited Geneva to give a course of lectures on British policy in the "Institut Universitaire de Hautes Etudes Internationales" that the present writer first came into contact with the remarkable efforts of the young folk to establish for themselves a sort of club-house. These efforts are naturally directed by older persons of experience, but what is most striking is the enthusiasm of the students themselves.

Apart from its able staff of professors permanently attached, it invites distinguished experts to deliver series of lectures. It was in pursuance of this policy that Dr. Gooch undertook a course which will certainly stand out as one of the most illuminating and frank expositions ever heard in the city of Calvin.

CALVIN MEMORABILIA

Calvin, the "Maison des Etudiants" is the very heart of Calvin's quarters. The street is named after him. Here—in No. 11—he lived; and there still exist relics of the sixteenth-century habitation, and one may go through an ancient gateway into the veritable garden in which Calvin walked and meditated.

Next door—No. 9—was occupied by Calvin's colleagues. Much later the family of the celebrated banker Necker lived here, and while Necker was called to Paris to make a desperate attempt to put French finances in order, and so stem the rising tide of Revolution, the Necker family continued their residence, and it is actually from Henri Necker to-day that the Maison des Etudiants rents the rooms, now a lively scene of juvenile activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Tullis and Mr. Balmer are the directors, and they are certainly extraordinary "amateurs." Ian Tullis is a Scot, of shrewd organizing intelligence. Nelly Olesen Tullis is Danish; she is indefatigable in her careful management of the students, showing them the joy of doing their own work, and is a wonderful hostess. Violette Balmer is Genevese, thus supplying a valuable connecting link with a city whose warmth of hospitality is sometimes concealed under an exterior of reserve.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

There was formed an executive committee which includes Dr. Max Habicht of the Legal Section of the League; Guillaume Fatio; Benjamin Geris; Professor Fehr, of the University; a student, Carmen Bucher; and other equally representative. There are Germans, Turks—boys and girls of all nationalities, engaged in transforming and adapting the apartments, in keeping them clean, in serving each other, in arranging meetings, parties, dinners and in providing for all the recreational requirements of young people who, it should not be forgotten, are usually for the first time away from home.

But here they gather, and here they are preparing for themselves a second home. They are going ahead with a faith that if it does not move Mont Blanc at any rate procures for them—on the very evening they decided to entertain Dr. Gooch, Prof. Manley O. Hudson of Harvard, and the present writer—tables and plates and all kinds of things which were lacking. They are sure that whatever they need will come to them—and it does!

HOME ASSURED

It would be invidious to mention a few of the societies and persons who, when they heard of this gallant enterprise, came forward to help. What should be said, however, is that the University, recognizing the usefulness of the Maison, immediately undertook to provide for the rent.

So the students have their home assured, and now it is only a question of running it, and of making it a happy centre from which will radiate the eager hopes of the men and women who will be given the bigger job of refurnishing, of cleaning, of running the world and helping to make it a cheerful place of joyful activities.

WOMEN FIGHT IN STREET

Man The Cause Of Trouble

Two women, Chan Shum, 33, and Lau Yee, of the same age were brought before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen yesterday at the Kowloon Magistracy for fighting in the street.

Chan Shum said that she was walking peacefully along the street when Lau Yee, whom she did not know, came up from behind and struck her.

In her retaliation, she merely pushed away her aggressor, and in falling she received a gash on her forehead.

Lau Yee stated she had known the other woman for a considerable period, and that she was her husband's paramour.

Meeting in the street, she could not restrain herself, and a quarrel ensued.

Mr. Macfadyen bound them over to keep the peace for a year.

BREAKS LEG IN STREET FIGHT

ELDERLY MAN HAD WORST OF IT

Choi Loi, 20, was very annoyed because his master's wife took too much time when she used the bathroom.

Finally, they decided to go out into the street to settle their differences.

Choi Loi struck once, and his opponent being sixty-nine years of age, was too unsteady to stand up under the blow.

In falling, he broke his leg, and was taken to the hospital for treatment, where he has remained until the present.

In view of the fact that Choi Loi has been in police custody for 18 days, the charge against him was lessened, but Mr. Himsforth said that he had to bind him over to keep the peace for six months.

UNMUZZLED DOGS

Several Summonses Before Court

DOCTOR DISCHARGED

Dr. S. S. Strahan was summoned before Mr. S. F. Balfour, at the Central Police Court yesterday for allowing his dog abroad in a public thoroughfare without either a muzzle or lead.

Dr. Strahan pleaded not guilty and pointed out that the word "allow" in the summons was erroneous as he did not allow his dog to be abroad without a muzzle. The dog had been fitted with a good muzzle but that muzzle had been stolen.

When the dog was found, the collar was still on the its neck.

Evidence of the house-boy and the cooie was taken, after which His Worship giving the defendant the benefit of the doubt discharged the summons.

EUROPEAN FINED

Dr. R. Ryde of the Union Insurance Society of Canton, was also summoned for allowing his dog to be abroad in Lower Albert Road on August 15 without muzzle or lead. Pleading guilty he was fined $15.

D. J. Santos, living at No. 2, Fort Street, summoned on a similar charge, was apparently under the impression that a dog kept in the house did not require a licence. In this case the dog was taken on to the roof and there snapped at one of the residents of another flat.

Acting Sub-Inspector Madgwick stated that as soon as the defendant was summoned he took out a licence.

Defendant was fined $3.

A dog belonging to the late Mr. Kwok Gul Lau, was the subject of a summons heard before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Court yesterday. The charge was allowing the dog abroad in Robinson Road on August 15 without muzzle or lead.

A fine of $15 was imposed.

Around the Courts

A SERIOUS MATTER

Ho Tai was carrying a bundle of clothing when she was apprehended by Sgt. Green on information received. Searching the bundle Sgt. Green found 10 packets of heroin, with 50 pills in each.

She told him that she was carrying them for a man who promised to give her $2.

Mr. Macfadyen: This is a very serious matter.
Defendant: I didn't realize that. She was fined $1,000 or, in default, four months' gaol.

THEFT CHARGE

Mrs. F. S. Muggill, living at No. 288, the Peak, was the complainant in a case brought before Mr. W. Schofield on remand at the Central Police Court yesterday, where in Ma Ping-chang, 35, was charged with the theft of a diamond set wrist watch, valued at G.$350. The hearing was fixed for September 9. Sub-Inspector McEwen prosecuted.

BIG HEROIN SEIZURE

Thirteen thousand heroin pills were found on Pun Sun, a female, living at No. 24, Lyndhurst Terrace, when she was arrested by the revenue officers. She was brought before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Court yesterday and was sentenced to six months' hard labour. R. O. Grimmit prosecuted.

Another woman, Wong Choi, appeared before Mr. W. Schofield charged with the possession of 1,000 heroin pills in Queen's Road West on August 25. She was fined $1,000 or six months' hard labour.

Lam Wong is a man without a country.

Banished from the Colony, he made three previous returns, and although he is a native of the Federated Malay States, he could not return to his homeland, because he had been banished from Sarawak for life.

The only alternative Mr. Macfadyen could do was to sentence him to one year's imprisonment.

PEDDER STREET AFFRAY SEQUEL

Indians Bound Over

ONE STABBED IN BACK

The sequel to the fight between two Indians outside the Post Office on Monday was the appearance of the Indians in the Central Magistracy yesterday. Khuda Bux, 42, a licensed motor car driver, was charged with assaulting Rahmat Din, Mr. S. F. Balfour was the Magistrate.

Det-Sgt. P. O. Guild, stated that the defendant loaned $5 to a man named Mohamed Khan. On Monday at 1 p.m. the defendant asked for the return of this money but was refused. The complainant came on the scene and started a fight during which he was stabbed in the back by the defendant.

His Worship was informed that though the defendant was badly battered, the complainant had only been using his fists. It was a very serious thing, stated His Worship, to use a knife in a public thoroughfare, but in view of the element of self-defence and the parties having arrived at some agreement, His Worship bound all parties over in sums of $200.

HORSA PASSENGERS AT KARACHI

Karachi, Sept. 1.

Eight passengers of the Imperial Airways liner Horsa landed here today and will be sent on to their various destinations tomorrow. Most of the passengers are reluctant to tell their horrible ordeal, but one stated that relief came not one minute too early as they were on the verge of collapse. —Reuters' Bulletin Service.

TATTOO YOUR LIPS WITH SOUTH SEA GLAMOUR

Now... a stunning new TATTOO lipstick shade, named "Hawaiian." It's the exciting red of Hawaii's wild Hibiscus flower... a red that's alive as a tropical storm, yet subtle as the gentle rustle of palm leaves. It will actually stay just as red on your lips as it is in the stick. It has a hint of the purplish undertone that usually goes with indelible lipstick. And "Hawaiian" will keep your lips soft and moistly smooth. See "Hawaiian"... test it on your own skin at the new TATTOO Color Selector found on all toilet goods counters.

MAINTENANCE CASE

Husband Seeks Custody Of Child

Li Wa Hon, of 89, Prince Edward Road, was sued by his wife, Leung Fui Wa for maintenance at the Kowloon Magistracy before Mr. E. Himsforth yesterday.

She alleged that from August 15 to November 13 her husband neglected her, and she then left for Kowloon on October 13. On August 14, of this year, she returned to the Colony, but a reconciliation could not be effected. Her husband wanted the custody of the child, but she could not agree to that.

Mr. Peter H. Sin appeared for the defendant, and Mr. M. A. de Silva represented the plaintiff.

Mr. Silva asked for a temporary maintenance for his client while the case was in remand. He did not want to make an order of maintenance, as that might cause ill-feeling. He thought that the defendant should give it voluntarily.

The hearing was adjourned until September 17, at 11.30 a.m.

STRANGE MEETING

Indians Declare They Are Ready To Die

Sacred pudding, handed by the priest to worshippers in the Gurdwara, figured in a case heard on August 27 before Mr. C. H. Haines, Registrar, in H.M. Police Court, Shanghai, when the charges of assault and affray brought against fifteen Indians, who are alleged to have taken part in a fracas at Miller Road on the afternoon of July 12, again came up for hearing.

"Is it not true that sacred pudding is handed out by the priest at your services?" Mr. Morris Diamond, representing some of the defendants, asked a witness.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Then why did you not go into the temple and take some sacred pudding, instead of just bowing?" demanded Mr. Diamond.

"There are many men who do not have sacred pudding," answered the witness.

Mr. Diamond:—Does the taking of sacred pudding mean anything to you?

Mr. Reeks, (representing the witness)—I object to this very oppressive cross-examination. My client does not rise to the intricacies of my learned friend's cross-examination.

Mr. Haines:—The witness does not look brow-beaten, I must say.

COLLEAGUES PAY LAST RESPECTS

Sergt. Fred Mintey Laid To Rest

LARGE ATTENDANCE: PROFUSION OF WREATHS

The esteem in which the late Sergeant Fred Mintey, of the Criminal Investigation Department, Police Headquarters, was held by members of the Hong Kong Police Force, was shown by the large turn-out yesterday at the funeral which was held at the Colonial Cemetery.

A squad of European police officers, under Chief Inspector R. H. Marks, numbering twenty-two men, was drawn up at the junction of Stubbs Road and Magazine Gap Road, where they met the cortege before proceeding for the interment. Four officers, two on each side, marched by the side of the hearse.

DECEASED'S CAREER

Deceased passed away at the Government Civil Hospital on Tuesday after a short illness, his death coming as a shock to his colleagues and a large circle of friends. The late Sergt. Mintey hailed from Wall-sall, near Birmingham, and leaves a mother and sister to whom the deepest sympathy is extended on their sad bereavement.

Prior to joining the local force, deceased served in the Guildford Police and was an ex-member of the Coldstream Guards.

Deceased was only 32 years of age, a sad feature of the demise being that he had only returned from home leave three weeks ago.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

Among those who attended the graveside rituals yesterday were: Mr. W. R. Scott, Director of Criminal Intelligence; Mr. T. Murphy, Assistant Director of Criminal Intelligence (Crime); Mr. P. Grant, A.S.P., Chief Inspector R.H.E. Marks, Divisional Inspectors G. A. Stinson, M. H. Hourihan, S. Logan, Inspectors S. C. Saunders, E. J. Ellis, attached to the S.C.A., and Chiang Jen Yu (Wei Hei Wei), Sub-Inspectors A. J. Johnson, L. M. A. E. Kinnear, A. L. Hopkins, J. Dredge, Sergeants F. W. Fowle, C. Fie, G. Carruthers, T. Cashman, J. Johnson, N. B. Fraser, C. Byron, J. Hunter, T. G. Mackay, W. George, H. B. Brown, J. Roberts, Mr. W. E. Hollands, and Mr. D. Fitches.

The mourners were: J. Shepherd, P. Mawer, T. J. Hemsley, T. Pilkington, Mr. and Mrs. O. Outtinger.

As the cortege wended its way up Stubbs Road, Traffic Sergt. D. Wass riding his combination motorcycle headed the procession, whilst Traffic Sergt. A. Bethell took up the rear.

The Rev. E. C. H. Tribbeck, of the Methodist Church, officiated at the graveside, and the pall bearers were: Crown Sergt. J. Goddard, Sergts. Wheeler, Cochrane, Bone, Wall and Simpson.

Floral tributes were sent from the following: Ada and Cliff, Tom and Jim, Hon. Inspector General of Police and Mrs. T. H. King, C. F. Alexander, Jack and Edith Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Byron, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Baker, F. E. E. Booker, A. Bethell, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Carey, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. C. Calhorne, M. A. Cairn, Ching Jen Yu, T. H. Daly, Mr. and Mrs. Dredge, J. Fang, M. J. Flattery, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fraser, D. Fitches, C. Gough and Farquhar, Mr. and Mrs. P. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Gowan, Mr. and Mrs. O. Gittinger, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Grimmer, H. G. Hallam, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, B. V. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Hemsley, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Hourihan, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hollands, A. J. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellert, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. S. Logan, K. T. Leung, A. W. Mooney, Mr. and Mrs. R. McEwen, Mr. and Mrs. T. Murphy, D. G. MacPherson and Faherty, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Madgwick, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. E. Marks, T. G. Mackay, A. Crossman, Mr. and Mrs. Mair, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Donovan, T. Pilkington, J. Riddell, Mr. and Mrs. Stinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Scott, J. E. NO AIR MAIL FROM ENGLAND

Dorado Behind Schedule

When the R.M.A. Dorado arrived yesterday at 2.40 p.m. she was one day, three hours and forty minutes behind schedule.

What occasioned her delay was the wait in Penang for the air mail from London, and as the plane could not hold up the schedule any longer she flew to Hong Kong without waiting.

General Presents Colours To Garrison Wolf Cubs

"Should Be Honoured And Respected"

MR. MADDICK TRIBUTED

The Colours of the 4th Kowloon (Garrison) Wolf Cub Pack were presented yesterday evening at St. Andrew's Church Hall by His Excellency Major-General A. W. Bartholomew, General Officer Commanding. "The Colours are the emblem of your movement and as such should be honoured and respected," said His Excellency in presenting the Colours.

Accompanying the General were Lieut. J. P. Howarth, A.D.C., Mrs. Rodwell and Mr. C. Champkin, Commissioner of Scouts.

The Hall was well-filled with parents of the Cubs, and officers both from the Army and the Scouts, and it was for their entertainment that the Cubs presented a programme of variety items.

The Pack was inspected by Mrs. F. E. E. Booker, District Cub Master, and Mr. R. Dormer, Akela Leader. In charge of the whole proceedings was Mr. G. Maddick.

In presenting his report for the year, Mr. Maddick said that the Pack had risen in numbers from 17 in August 1935 to 35 at the present time. During the year 32 badges had been gained by the Pack which feat reflected favourably on the members of the Pack. Thanks were expressed to the many helpers of the movement and the speaker expressed his confidence in the ability of his successors, Messrs. Smith and McCormick.

During the interval tea was served, after which His Excellency presented the Colours, and said that it was very gratifying to note the rise in the numbers of the Pack. Mr. Maddick was to be thanked for the success which had attended the Cub Pack. He was extremely sorry to hear that Mr. Maddick was leaving but he would go home with the knowledge of youth and work well-done. His

AUGUST WEATHER FEATURES

THUNDERSTORMS AND TYPHOON

The mean temperature for the month was 82.3 as compared with the normal of 81.7; it ranged from 74.0 on the 17th to 91.5 on the 28th. Temperatures of 90° or above were registered on 5 days. Rain amounting to 21.30 inches fell on 19 days, the maximum for a civil day being 8.74 inches, which fell on the 2nd and included a fall of 2.80 inches at 7 a.m. The monthly fall was 7 inches in excess of the normal and the rainfall of the 2nd equalled the total for the month of July. There were 219 hours of bright sunshine, 15 hours in excess of normal, although cloudiness at 68 per cent was 2 per cent above normal. Humidity at 85 per cent, was normal.

There were 13 thunderstorms in 7 days, the most intense of which occurred on the morning of the 2nd; it was accompanied by copious rain, as already noted, and the electrical discharges caused minor damage to apparatus in the Royal Observatory.

TYPHOONS

This storm occurred when a typhoon which had moved Northward over Pratas Shoal entered the coast near Swatow. In addition there were two typhoons affecting the Colony, one which passed 100 miles to the Southward on a Westerly track, on the 13th, and another which passed close to the South of Gap Rock and West of Macao on the morning of the 17th. In the former case the wind barely reached gale force but in the latter typhoon force was experienced for 8 hours at Waglan and Gap Rock and 4 hours at the Royal Observatory; a gust at the rate of 132 miles per hour being registered. There were several strandings of vessels and much damage on shore. The No. 10 signal was hoisted and the bombs fired for the first time since August 1931.

Those who are awaiting mail from London will be disappointed for another week.

However, the Dorado brought mail from Australia, Malaya, and India, totalling 58,582 kilograms in weight.

PRETTY WEDDING AT THE CATHEDRAL

Charming Bride From Vancouver

ROBINSON—LEACH

An event of social importance to the Colony was the wedding solemnized in the Lady Chapel of St. John's Cathedral, yesterday.

Mr. Jack Fraser Robinson, of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, was united in marriage to Miss Jean Frances Marion Leach, of Vancouver, B.C., at 4.30 p.m. The Chapel was tastefully decorated with flowers. A large gathering of friends attended.

The bride was given away by Mr. Kenneth Noble, Acting Canadian Trade Commissioner.

Mr. T. Add's Martin, of Messrs. Caldbeck MacGregor & Co., Ltd., performed the duties of best man. The ushers were Messrs. K. Munro and F. A. M. Elliot.

Dressed in white chiffon, and wearing a large white hat, the bride looked charming. Her bouquet was a spray of jasmine.

Mrs. G. S. Hugh-Jones who was matron of honour looked lovely in a pale blue crepe dress with navy blue accessories.

After the wedding ceremony, which was officiated by the Rev. H. W. Baines, a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Hugh-Jones, 3, Thorpe Manor, May Road, where the large gathering repaired to drink to the health and happiness of the newly-married couple who are to spend their honeymoon at Bagulo, Philippine Islands.

The staff of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire were in full attendance at the wedding and at the reception, as were many other well-known residents of the Colony.

THE GUESTS

The following guests were at the reception: Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lanyon, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Chasels, Mr. and Mrs. W. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Eales, Mr. and Mrs. K. Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Groom, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Pringle, Prof. and Mrs. F. A. Redmond, and Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Hugh-Jones.

Mesdames Jupp, N. Turnbull, G. Barber, Anderson, S. D. Begg, and Crawford.

Messrs. Donnelly, Ross and Halliday of the Empress of Asia, T. B. Wilson, of the Dollar Line, J. F. Laurie, J. MacFarland, Gallagher, Cumming, Chadwick, Cotesworth, A. Wood, J. D. Danby, Dymant, E. J. Tandy, P. C. Frost, C. Blaker, J. R. Masson, T. Add's Martin, K. Munro and F. A. M. Elliot. Misses Isobel Henderson, Reid, Johnson and Hopkins.

POISON GAS STILL UNCERTAIN

No Known Type Will Wipe Out Existence

WARFARE HORRORS

While there are many types that will inflict enormous casualties through their deadly power, the most effective poison gas has not yet been discovered, according to Mr. Wilfred S. B. Wong, director of the American Engineering Corporation of China, and factory representative of Federal Laboratories, Inc., U.S.A., who spoke on "A civilian's conception of the next war" at the weekly meeting of the Shanghai Rotary Club, held on August 28.

Mr. Wong said that while military preparation was in progress, people ought to find out something about it, and use their influence with their respective governments to end the mad armament race. Interwoven with war by land, air and sea was chemical warfare, and lastly there was bacterial warfare. There was relatively little development in the military field as compared with the sensational development in the science of aerial warfare. There had, however, been improvements in artillery, hand grenades, long distance guns, kick less machine-guns, and amphibian and rapid-moving tanks, which travel 40 miles an hour over country and 60 miles an hour on the road.

The development most interesting to the layman, however, was that in the sphere of aerial warfare. The different types of fighting planes comprised the bomber, the pursuit plane, the fighting plane and the observation or scouting plane. Every passenger plane was potentially a bomber, just as every merchant vessel was potentially a warship. The pursuit was the fastest type of military plane, while the fighting plane was used principally against infantry and transport columns. This was the type of plane that was used for duels in the air, and provided the romance and adventure of fighting in the air during the last war. Any light aircraft would suffice for an observation plane, which was used for observing troop movements and distributing propaganda material.

FRAGMENTATION BOMB

Mr. Wong described the different types of bombs known in modern warfare, the worst of which was the 25 lb. fragmentation bomb. This imparted a speed of 550 feet per second to fragments weighing 2 ounces each. Placed strategically in a column of infantry, it would cause more casualties than a volley fired by a whole company of soldiers. The average bomb weighed 100 pounds, and made a crater from seven to eight feet deep, and 20 feet in diameter.

With regard to the chemical bomb, Mr. Wong said that this was not as serious as was at first supposed, and there was yet difficulty in choosing a suitable poison gas. There were 15 types that could be used on a large scale. The ideal gas certainly had not yet been discovered, but would consist of the combination of several gases. Mustard gas destroyed the sense of smell, and afterwards other gases could be introduced to complete the effect. There had not yet been discovered a gas that was so deadly that it would blot out the whole of civilization. Incendiary was the most effective of those discovered so far.

After striking their object, these bombs very often heated the atmosphere around to a temperature of 5,400 degrees Fahrenheit, 100 times the temperature of the ordinary fire brigade would be required to deal with its effects. The Germans, declared Mr. Wong, had fully intended to set both London and Paris alight with these bombs, but the conclusion of the war prevented them doing so.

The more deadly the bomb, the more ingenious were the anti-aircraft measures taken to combat it. The principle of the latest aerial gun was to make firing from the air as easy and interesting as duck shooting.

BACTERIAL WARFARE

Bacterial warfare had as its object the infection of the enemy with disease, which was accomplished through the enemy's food and water supply, and from the air. This method of warfare, however, could get out of control, bringing both sides under its deadly influence. The next war, concluded Mr. Wong, was going to wipe away the greater portion of the world's population, and would be fought mostly behind the lines. On the one hand, they had the lessons learnt from the last war, and on the other instruments of warfare a hundred times more devastating than those employed in the last war.

One of the guests at the meeting was Mr. J. A. Sowers, secretary of the Oakland, California, Rotary Club, who gave a short address on conditions in that city. The British and American tennis teams which competed for the Rotary Trophy, won this year by America with Britain as a runner-up, were also invited as guests, and the trophy, together with individual cups for members of the winning team, was presented by Mr. W. H. Tan, who was in the chair.

WHEN BRAINS
WORK BEST

At 14 or thereby, a Scots head master recently stated, most children are as intelligent as they ever will be. He is probably quite right.

No doubt his point could be backed by psychological "tests" of one kind or another. But it can also be backed by something much more convincing. Most of us who can remember our young days at all clearly, who can recall what we thought about and how we tackled the problems that our brains had to deal with if not at 14 then at 15 or 16, will agree that our minds never worked better or more clearly than they did then.

It is true that their working sometimes had odd results.

If we look back at the opinions which we held most passionately in those days we may often have to smile at them. In fact, to admit that we were as intelligent in boyhood or girlhood as we have ever been since is not to suggest that the young, if given their way, could set the world to rights better than the old. Even if we go still further with Dr. Thomas Wright and agree that minds actually begin to grow rusty after 35 we need not admit that the "over thirty-fives" are bound to get things into a mess when they are in control. For there is something in the world at least as important as brains. That is experience, and no amount of cleverness will give it to the young.

All the same, the point about the intelligence of 14-year-olds is worth making. It should remind us of a number of things.

For instance, that there are certain kinds of work which should be left mainly to young people—not, of course, to school children who still have to learn their job in life, but to men and women whose brains are really fresh. And, again, we ought to be warned against those "reformers" who think they can improve matters by postponing the entry of young people into the world as long as possible—

ONE THOUSAND

Money Disappears

YOUTH'S DISCOVERY
AT BANK

Lau Huen Tung, aged 16, was walking blissfully along Queen's Road yesterday morning with the large sum of $1,000 in his vest pocket.

He was on his way to deposit the money in the bank for his master. (Lau was a rickshaw puller at 26, Queen's Road, Central, ground floor).

Arriving at the bank the youngster was horrified to find the sum missing from his pocket.

He informed his master immediately, who in turn notified the police, but, as far as anyone knows, the money was either lost or stolen. Because the serial numbers of the bank notes are not known, there were two notes of $500 each—it is improbable that the sum will be recovered.

KOWLOON-CANTON

Extra Night Train
Proposal

Canton, Sept. 2.
Owing to the recent change in the time-table of the Hong Kong-Canton river boats, which now leave Canton at 10 p.m., it is reported that this change has affected the passenger receipts of the Canton-Kowloon Railway considerably.

It is reported that with a view to increasing passengers traffic, Mr. Li Luk-chiu, Superintendent of the Chinese Section of the railway has left for Hong Kong to confer with Mr. Walker, Superintendent of the English Section, regarding the advisability of running an extra night train for the convenience of passengers.

So far, the result of this conference has not been disclosed.—

MR. CHOU LU'S
RETURN

Nanking, Sept. 2.
Mr. Chou Lu, president of the National Chungshan University in Canton and veteran Kuomintang statesman, who is now in Europe on a visiting trip, will return home early this month according to a cablegram received from him by Mr. Tsou Lin, Vice-Minister of Finance to-day.

Mr. Tsou Lin, who recently returned from Canton after making a thorough study of the Kwangtung financial conditions, arrived here from Shanghai this morning. Central News.

FOREIGN PASSPORTS
CURTAILED

Nanking, Sept. 2.
An urgent telegram requesting a suspension of issuing passports to foreigners who seek to travel in the western part of Kansu Province during next three months was received to-day by the officials of the Foreign Office from the Kansu Provincial Government.

The reason for this action is that the famine catastrophe in the 15 districts west of the Yellow River is assuming alarming proportions and renders it difficult for the local authorities to accord due protection to foreign travellers.—

Peace Delegates Leave
For Nanning

TSAI TIN KAI'S DEFIANCE

Canton, September 2.
Mr. Kooy Ching and Generals Chu Pui-eh and Ching Ching flew to Nanning yesterday in the capacity of mediators in the peace settlement negotiations.

It is reported that they carried personal letters to Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi from Marshal Chiang Kai-shek conveying the Central Government's final terms and conditions and exhorting them to work for unification and national salvation.

The plane left the Tin Ho aerodrome at 11.35 a.m., and Generals Yu Han-mow, Ho Kin, Hung Sik-wei, Chan Sing and others assembled to see them off and wish them success.

It is said that Dr. Wang Chung-hui and General Wang Shao-hung did not proceed owing to their names not being mentioned in the telegraphic reply of Generals Li Tsung-jen and Pei Chung-hsi.

It is expected that it will take at least a few days to consider and reply to the terms and conditions of the Central Government.

However, the successful re-organisation of the 19th Route Army is a "spoke in the wheel" of the peace settlement negotiations. And it now remains to be seen whether General Tsai Ting-kai will side with the Kwangsi irreconcilables or support the Nanking Central Government in its policy of peaceful unification.

The 19th Route Army is causing Marshal Chiang Kai-shek much worry and anxiety, but in well-informed circles it is believed that General Tsai Ting-kai will adopt a neutral and waiting attitude, until the Central Government is in a position to declare a united front in actively resisting foreign invasions instead of breaking away from the Central Government.—

HUGE KWANGTUNG
LOAN

Nanking, Sept. 2.
The new Kwangtung financial readjustment loan which was passed in principle by the Executive Yuan yesterday morning will probably reach a staggering sum of 120,000,000 it is learned from well-informed sources to-day. The loan, it is expected, will be floated on October 1 and will bear an annual interest of four per cent. With its amortization period lasting for thirty years, the loan will have a Kwangtung portion of bond-soldiered tax as its securities.—

AIRPORTS TO BE LIGHTED

London, Sept. 1.
Final details completing the intricate organisation of the Schlesinger Air Race from London to Johannesburg on September 29 for which 14 well-known British racing airmen have entered were issued to-day by the Racing Committee of the Royal Aero Club. The race will begin from Portsmouth Airport at 6.15 a.m. Machines will start at an interval of one minute and these differences in time will be adjusted at Cairo which is the only official control in the race although competitors must be seen turning at Zimmu Aerodrome at Belgrade. Imperial Airways have undertaken the responsibility of airport lighting and ground control at all known airports on the route between Cairo and Johannesburg. Air ports will remain lighted all night during the nights of September 29, 30 and October 1.—

MANY MACHINES

London, Sept. 1.
There are fourteen entrants for the air race from Britain to Johannesburg, which is scheduled to start from Portsmouth on September 29. The machines will start at one-minute intervals.

The only official control will be at Cairo, although the competitors must be seen turning at Belgrade. There are three entries from South Africa and one from India. The aircraft consist of three Percival Mew Gulls, four Percival Vegas, three Miles machines, two B. A. Eagles one de Havilland, and one Air Speed Envoy. Prominent pilots include Victor Smith, who is flying a Miles Sparrow Hawk; Tommy Rose, who has entered a B. A. Double Eagle; and C. W. A. Scott, who will fly a Percival Vega.—

EARLY SETTLEMENT
EXPECTED

Canton, Sept. 2.
An early and peaceful settlement of the Kwangsi impasse is confidently expected in Chinese political circles as a result of the progress made in the peace negotiations now going on in Nanning, Canton and Hong Kong.

With the Central Government continuing to take a lenient view and with the Central troops withdrawn some 10 miles from all fronts on the Kwangsi border, it is now declared that General Li Tsung-jen and General Pei Chung-hsi have decided to take a more conciliatory attitude.

A delegation of peace envoys is scheduled to leave Canton for Nanning shortly with Nanking's last terms from the peaceful settlement of the Kwangsi dispute.—

NEW LEVY IN NORTH CHINA

Consumption Tax
Introduced

Peiping, Sept. 2.
Chinese tax officials confirm that an arrangement is being made to levy a consumption tax of one-eighth on the national customs tariff on goods imported in categorical or special trade. They indicated, however, that they have not decided this matter although it is reported that tax receipts have already been issued in the Chinese city.

Details of the scheme are still obscure, but presumably the tax will be applied both on goods entering the country through the East Hopei area as well as those landed along the postal stretch between Chikow and Yenhsan southward of Tientsin.

Smuggling on this section of the Hopei coast was hitherto obstructed to a considerable extent by Customs cutters which thus foiled any attempt at making Chikow a rival to East Hopei ports as a special trade centre.

At present the Customs authorities lack official notification of the new tax and it is not known what their attitude towards the scheme will be.—

FRONTIER

Negotiations To Open
At Manchuli

Moscow, Sept. 1.
The Mongolian Republic and Manchukuo have agreed to reopen negotiations at Manchuli on September 25 for the settlement of their dispute over frontiers.

It is agreed that the discussions will cover the establishment of two mixed Mongolian and Manchurian Commissions, one for the examination of existing frontiers between the Mongolian Peoples' Republic and Manchukuo, and the other to investigate the circumstances and causes of past frontier disputes.

Simultaneously with the appointment of the second Commission, authorised representatives will be named to settle the frontier disputes.—

SOCIAL REFORMS IN CANTON

GAMING HOUSES
PROHIBITED

WHOLE PROVINCE
AFFECTED

The Canton authorities have prohibited gambling in all its forms throughout the whole province, beginning from yesterday.

In Canton City all the fan tan and po plu lottery establishments closed their doors on the night of August 31.

All gambling has now ceased in the city and likewise at Honam, and the majority of the people are pleased and thankful as it is well-known that gambling is the cause of much poverty and misery.

FORTUNE-TELLERS

Fortune-tellers have also been suppressed by the city authorities. Formerly, the city was crowded with fortune-tellers, who waxed fat on the ignorance and gullibility of the superstitious people.

The streets and former haunts of this class of people are now conspicuous by their total absence. It is reported that many of the fortune-tellers have left for Hong Kong and Macao whilst others have become local "scribes" and letter-writers.

The new Government sweeps clean, and it is hoped that the people will be greatly benefitted by such wise and timely reform.—

Gunboats Increased

Canton, Sept. 2.
Owing to the strained relations between Kwangsi and the Central Government and the danger of the outbreak of hostilities, General Yu Han-mow has been conferring with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek regarding the adoption of effective measures for the protective control of the West River.

Consequently, it has been decided to increase the number of river-gunboats, and a number of gunboats which have arrived from the North, have been sent to reinforce the West River Patrol Fleet, and will be placed under the command of Admiral Chang Chih-ying.

This fleet will consist of the gunboats Chung Yuan, Chung Oi, Kin Yue, Chap Shun, Hai Hong, Kong Tai, Kong Kak, Ping Si, Kong Ping, Kong Ching, Chi Lee, Hai Shun and Kong on, fourteen in all.

The gunboats Chung Yuan, Chung Oi, Kin Yue and Chap Shun have already departed for the West River, and the remainder will follow in a few days' time. Chinese Evening Press.

RUMOURS IN MOSCOW

Serious Illness Of Soviet Dictator

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Paris, Sept. 2.
Rumours persist in Moscow that Stalin is seriously ill and confined to bed, according to a report to the "Matin" by its correspondent in the Soviet Russian capital. It will be recalled that Stalin suffered from a liver disease already in 1936, and at that time had to interrupt his political activities for a period of three years.

The fact that Stalin did not attend the theatrical performance given by a Georgian group who came to Moscow each year at Stalin's special request, appears to give a certain credence to the rumours.

During a banquet to the Georgian actors after the performance, numerous toasts were given to the "absent and tired Stalin."—

ATTACK ON IRUN

Hendaye, Sept. 1.

Fighting continued until dusk, but despite the insurgents' great superiority in artillery, the military position in front of Irun remains practically unchanged.

While Government troops were compelled to withdraw under heavy artillery fire from the bank of the River Bidasoa, and their position at San Marcial was constantly shelled, they have not surrendered their main defences.

A total of 27 buildings are reported to have been struck in Irun by rebel gunfire. The most serious damage occurred to the Jesuit College, how used as the headquarters of the Trade Unions, and in the vicinity of the railway station.

General Mola is personally conducting the attack and is making a desperate attempt to capture Irun.

An unofficial estimate of the killed and wounded in the past two days' fighting is 1,800.—

BATTLE RAGES ALL DAY

Rebel Assault On Irun Sector

DYNAMITE HAND GRENADES

Bilbao, Sept. 1.

The battle for Irun raged throughout to-day, and the valley of the Bidasoa River reeked with gunpowder, but the loyalists, shell-torn though they are, still resist the rebels doggedly.

Ambulances could be seen ascending and descending the slopes of the hills around Irun all day, while a ceaseless procession of stretcher-bearers visited the casualty clearing stations.

The insurgents' gunfire appeared to be extremely accurate, and in the absence of adequate dug-outs the death roll among the defenders must be heavy. Over 600 shells fell on the Government positions guarding the remaining 300 yards of the topmost ridge which commands the entry to Irun.

While the battle was essentially a big gun duel in which the rebels gained the advantage, rifle and machine-gun fire never ceased. Opposite the French town of Bilbao, the country near the frontier was torn up by the heavy bombardment and a deluge of shells, bombs and bullets fell all day.

The little, red-roofed Spanish farms dotted between Alunda and La Puna are riddled with projectiles and many are still smoking to-night.

VIOLENT FIGHTING

The firing continued with unabated violence until dusk, both sides fighting in a veritable hell of cannon flame. But although the loyalist lines were badly churned up, the troops manning the trenches refused to fall back and doggedly hold their positions.

The Government has brought up its famous "dynamiters," the daredevil miners who hold on to their improvised bombs until the moment they are about to explode. Bloody gaps appeared in the insurgent ranks as the miners flung these grenades, packets of dynamite, into the opposing line. Even the seasoned Foreign Legionnaires hesitated to attack when the bombers entered the fray.

When their barrage finally subsided, the attackers had little to show for their vast expenditure of ammunition.—

ATTACKERS MOWED DOWN

Hendaye, Sept. 1.

All the equipment of modern warfare was in operation when heavy fighting was resumed throughout this afternoon both on the bank of the Bidasoa River and in the valley between Ventas and the peak of Penadesayas. Despite the formidable bombardment by the insurgents, splendidly equipped with mortars and field guns, no advance was made, but the rebel armoured cars approached to within 100 yards of the barracks which the Government's Carabiniers hold, three-quarters of a mile from Behobia.

Wave after wave of assaulting insurgents were mowed down by the loyalists' fire before the attackers were compelled to return to the defensive positions, leaving behind them scores of dead and wounded.

Several aerial combats occurred between Government pursuit planes and squadrons of rebel bombers, and anti-aircraft guns were particularly busy.

It is believed the casualties are the most severe in the war thus far.—

NEUTRALITY IN CIVIL WAR

Advisory Committee Proposal

London, Sept. 1.

The British Government is known to share with the French the sense of great importance which it attaches to the setting up of an advisory committee composed of representatives of the powers who have adhered to the agreement for non-intervention in the Spanish civil war. In the absence of such a body as is contemplated there is no convenient method of bringing under discussion the number of points arising from the agreement which in time will call for settlement. If it were at all possible the British Government would like to see the committee in session in London this week. France has already approached Germany on the subject and the British Charge D'Affaires in Berlin, Mr. Basil Newton has been instructed to support the representations of France and to express the hope that the German Government will be able to co-operate in the establishment of the committee as soon as possible. Sir Charles Wingfield, British Ambassador in Lisbon is also in touch with the Portuguese Government on the same matter.—

PRICE OF TIN TOO HIGH

"Financial New" Opinion

London, Sept. 2.

The present price of tin is possibly too high, suggests the "Financial News."

The Journal points out that the price has been bolstered up by the growing belief that restriction will be renewed, and the realisation that stocks failed to expand at the rate justified by the present production quota, but emphasises that the Belgian-Congo quota, though tentatively fixed, must yet be passed by various countries concerned.

The writer moreover suggests the reason for failure of stocks to rise above starvation level is the renewed accumulation of Bolivian arrears and unseen expansion of consumers' stocks. The very fact apparent that production is not expanding as anticipated indicates therefore that the new agreement must start on a liberal quota basis.—

INTERNATIONAL YOUTH DAY

London, Sept. 2.

International Youth Day was celebrated yesterday in Madrid and Moscow with gigantic parades.

Over 100,000, comprising militia, Popular Front and children's organisations marched through the streets of Madrid, declaring their demonstration was a reply to the abortive insurgent air raids.

They marched through the city for hours, dancing, singing and shouting "Death to Fascism." They carried placards and banners, with caricatures directed principally against Herr Adolf Hitler and Fascism, and expressing sympathy with the Spanish Government.

For example, one student carried a placard: "The world is on the eve of a new war of conquest; by Fascist Germany and Militarist Japan."—

NEW TATARESCU CABINET

Situation Reviewed At First Session

Bucharest, Aug. 1.

The first Cabinet session of the new Tatarcescu Cabinet, without Titulescu as Foreign Minister, was held yesterday. Official reports state that following a comprehensive survey of the political situation regarding interior as well as foreign politics by Premier Tatarcescu, various measures were decided for the maintenance of public order, especially in the Universities. The Minister of Education proposed a decree according to which any acts of violence or disobedience of the law will be punished, and the law strictly enforced.

Political federations will be dissolved and dissolved, regardless of the party for which they fight. Persons in service of the State are liable to punishment if they violate the pledge given on assuming office. The report points out that the activities of the political parties will not be curtailed by these measures.

The Minister of Education presented a plan of reorganisation for the Universities, improving discipline and establishing punishment for the violation of University rules.

The announcement was also made of a bill in preparation, which includes compulsory labour service.—

DRASTIC MEASURES IN PALESTINE

LORD LUGARD URGES SPEEDY ACTION

Legislative Council Scheme Attacked

UNABLE TO CONTROL EXECUTIVE

London, Sept. 2.

Something must be done at once if the situation in Palestine is not to get beyond control and British Honour and prestige receive a further setback writes Lord Lugard, in a letter to the "Times," as a member of the League Mandates Commission.

Lord Lugard, who is closely in touch with Palestine, says that the public is not aware as to how hostile and bitter is the feeling between Jew and Arab which is daily becoming worse.

The writer attacks the Government scheme of a Legislative Council which is unable to control the executive and will only be a perpetual source of friction.

"The Jews will have none of it and the Arabs are not placated thereby, but to recede now would be regarded by the Arabs as yielding to Jewish intransigence, while even temporary suspension of Jewish immigration will be similarly regarded by the Jews."

Lord Lugard urges the immediate imposition of more drastic measures, as for example the declaration of martial law, unless the leaders of both sides agree to meet possibly a neutral chairman and evolve a modus vivendi pending the Royal Commission's investigations.—

UNFORTUNATE DEFEAT OF CHINESE

ARTISTRY IMPRESSES AGAINST CASUALS

SPLENDID SOCCER MATCH

Selhurst Park, Sept. 1.
The Chinese Olympic team today had a taste of first class amateur English football when on the Selhurst Park ground at Crystal Palace they met The Casuals, holders of the F. A. Amateur Cup and runners-up last season in the Isthmian League.

The Chinese were very unfortunate to lose by five goals to two.

After the previous days' experience against Islington Corinthians when they ran themselves to a standstill in the first half, the Chinese conserved their energies and as a result held their own until the last five minutes when the defence suddenly crumbled and conceded two goals.

The Chinese impressed with their artistry and team work, and were actually superior to the Amateur Cup holders.

But Bernard Joy proved a big stumbling block to the Orientals.

Collins opened the scoring for the Casuals. Lee Wai-tong equalised, the interval arriving with the teams sharing two goals.

Shortly after the resumption, Suen Kam-shun put the Chinese ahead with a brilliant goal, but after this lead had been held for some time, Riley and Allen both got through to score from close quarters.

Exchanges continued to be equal but the Casuals showed more thrust in their attacks, and quite near to the end, Collins and Joy dribbled through to give the Casuals victory.

FATAL MOTOR CRASH

Cricket Captain Killed

London, Sept. 1.

D. A. C. Page, Gloucestershire County Cricket Club captain has died from injuries received in a crash while returning home last night at the conclusion of the Nottinghamshire v. Gloucestershire match.

Born on April 11, 1911, Page, who was 25 years of age, became captain of the Gloucestershire cricket team two years ago in succession to B. H. Lyon. Page made his first regular appearances in the Gloucestershire team during 1934, when he played 29 innings and covered 649 runs for an average of 19. His top score that season was 93.

"Wisden's" commenting on his performances said "D.A.C. Page who will be captain of Gloucestershire next summer, advanced steadily, generally looking more convincing when he acted on the offensive."

This is the second motoring tragedy which has befallen county cricket players during the last seven days. On August 25, R. P. Northway, the Northampton county player was killed in a car crash on his way home after playing against Derbyshire. A. H. Bakewell, Northampton's opening batsman, who was in the same car, received very serious injuries, and was said to be in a critical condition.

OLD RECORD EASILY LOWERED

Confirming earlier good reports of his prowess, Don Smith, the 15-year-old American swimmer broke the record for the half mile free style Shanghai championship, when he won the event at the Rowing Club gala on August 28 in 12 minutes 53/5 seconds. A Logan finished second, thirty yards behind the winner, and also broke the old record, his time being 12 minutes, 40 seconds. W. Reilly was third. More notable is this achievement, in that the record for this distance has stood for ten years. J. R. Johnstone, having set up the old mark of 12 minutes 47 seconds in 1926.

Miss Wendy Donnelly retained her title for the 100 yards women's free style Shanghai Championship which she won from Miss Audrey Hammond, Miss Agnes Dudley being third. The winner's time was 73 seconds which is a second better than that which she recorded last year, although Miss Jacqueline Ball's record of 71 seconds is yet to be equalled.

Miss Stephanie Brabner won the Club women's 50 yards free style championship from Miss Wendy Donnelly thereby reversing the result of the Shanghai Championship of the previous week, and Miss Audrey Hammond was third. Miss Brabner's time last night was 30-4/5 seconds which is considerably better than the 32-2/5 secs. recorded in the open championship this year.

THE GOLFER'S SLICE

What Is Actionable Negligence?

Poor golf does not constitute actionable negligence, and the decision of a Pennsylvania Judge to the contrary is a real cause for alarm, in the opinion of Mr. Henry W. Taft, eminent among American lawyers, if not, hitherto, among American golfers. This Judge recently held guilty of negligence, in Brosko v. Hetherington, a player who, without benefit of lessons from a professional, sliced a drive on the first tee and hit a caddy in the eye.

Startled by the thought of what might happen to the game of golf if a flood of litigation were let loose by reason of the Pennsylvania Judge's decision, Mr. Taft has written to the "New York Law Journal" a letter of protest.

The Judge (he says) seems to have been without golfing background. Otherwise, why should he have said that the ball was "irregularly driven by the defendant?"

If an "improper posture and an incorrect swing," referred to by the Judge, are to constitute actionable negligence, there would probably be in a single day at a popular golf links a thousand or more such acts of negligence, and the hazard of players and caddies would be so great that insurance companies would classify the pastime as "extra-hazardous."

Mr. Taft asks, what is an improper posture?

Some players (he writes) spread their legs wide apart, some place their feet close together, some stand pigeon-toed, some slant their toes outward, and some stand straight, while others lean over. Ninety-five per cent. of golf players have only moderate skill, he continues, and everybody frequently lapses from perfect form. A professional's dictum is no solution.

He admits that lack of skill may amount to negligence, "but in a game where departures from perfect practice are so common and result in so many risks, that can only occur in an extreme case."

and Council at which issues vitally affecting the supreme cause of world peace will be under consideration.

Ideal Country Club

Where Golfing Is A Pleasure

ATTRACTION AT FANLING

Situated some 23 miles from Kowloon in the ideal surroundings of Fanling is the Country Club—a golf club of fine repute. With a nine hole course totalling about 3,300 yards, within a distance of a few hundred yards from the railway station, nothing but satisfaction is expressed by the members of the club.

Not the least among the attractions is the spirit of bonhomie and sympathetic co-operation of the members. The members' roll is comparatively small, being about 85 of whom twenty are ladies. Considering the social amenities and the ideal surroundings of the club, the charm of a week-end holiday spent within its precincts, it is a matter of great surprise that the membership is so small.

SMALL DUES

The dues of the club are comparatively small. The entrance fee is $25 and the monthly subscription $5. Ladies are admitted to membership for the meagre monthly subscription of $2, this without the entrance fee of $25.

One of the previous difficulties was that of transport to the club, but this has now been altered in that a regular bus service of fifteen minutes interval, is running from the railway station to the club. Special rates are also obtainable on the railway. In all, the time spent in reaching the club is about half-an-hour. A previous arrangement was that buses met the train and deposited members at the door of the club-house. This arrangement could easily be revived should the membership increase and it is so desired.

FOUNDED IN 1925

The club was originally founded in 1925 as a golf club of the Club de Lusitano and one of the pioneers of the golf club was Mr. A. W. da Rosa. The present President of the club, Mr. E. D. da Rosa, is the brother of this founder. The club has progressed along all lines since its inception and stands today as an ideal for a week-end of golf.

There is a movement afoot to expand the course into one of eighteen holes. This project, of course, requires financial support, which could be greatly assisted by an increase in memberships. The plans further entail the extension and improvement of the club-house.

These plans, though ambitious are worthy of consideration and support in view of the further facilities and added enjoyment thus offered to the members. The club is thriving and an increase in the membership would be of mutual benefit to both the club and the community.

TILDEN TO FORM HIS OWN L.T.A.

Ellesworth Vines To Give His Full Support

Following his suspension by the United States Professional Lawn Tennis Association in company with Ellesworth Vines, G. M. Lott, Vincent Richards and F. T. Hunter, "Big Bill" Tilden says that he is prepared to form his own L.T.A. Tilden and his colleagues were suspended for "appearing in unauthorised tournaments."

Tilden, who is at present in London, said: "I have not the slightest idea which tournaments are meant and I don't care. I have just talking to Vines over the transatlantic telephone and he is as much in the dark as I am. He is prepared to back me up in whatever I do about it."

"With his support, I think we should be able to arrange things to suit ourselves, and the United States L. T. A. may be a bit lost without us. There are not a lot of professionals in the States who could expect to win many events against our joint opposition."

READY FOR WAR?

Trained Man Power Of Nations

GERMANY LEADS ESTIMATE

French statisticians estimate that 6,000,000 men, a third of them Germans, will be ready for war when Germany's new two-year term of military service becomes effective in October.

The statisticians reckoned that men under arms in Europe's leading military nations soon will reach 5,369,000. They estimated that Germany, in addition to regular fighting units, would have 400,000 Nazi militiamen and 275,000 men in labour camps, the latter also organized along military lines.

Estimates of army and civilian statisticians gave the following figures on regular fighting units, based upon Germany's doubled term of a military conscription:

Germany, 1,365,000 men;

Italy, 1,250,000;

Russia, 1,200,000;

France, 654,000;

Poland, 286,000;

Great Britain, 213,000;

Rumania, 141,000;

Czechoslovakia, 109,000;

Yugoslavia, 107,000; and Belgium, 63,500.

France was reported to be planning to strengthen her military defenses, convinced that Germany is headed towards another war. French opinion asserted that Germany's chancellor, Adolf Hitler, in issuing decrees increasing the military training period from one year to two years, had moved toward armed conflict.

Meanwhile, General Marie Gamelin, chief of the French army staff and other military leaders conferred with France's Socialist premier, Leon Blum. It was announced that the effects of the Nazi decree creating an army twice the size of France's was studied in the hope of reaching "a rapid and practical decision."

TRIALS OF SHIPPING TRADE

Much Nervousness Over World Politics

Much nervousness over the international situation and its possible grave effects upon the shipping freight trade is manifest in Oslo, following the publication of official laid-up tonnage figures.

Events in Spain, which cause many vessels to run the risk of prolonged arrest and to meet danger in the Western Mediterranean, are the main cause of fear. The unprecedented drought in the United States at a time when there was an increase in tonnage from Canadian and Argentine ports, the levying and subsequent lifting of anti-Italian sanctions, and other influences have had an equally important effect. The tonnage carried by tankers, light and heavy cargoes, has shown a marked reduction.

The result of all these happenings is directly reflected in laid-up tonnage figures for the Norwegian Merchant Marine. Figures up to August 1 show an increase in laid-up tonnage of 235,435 tons deadweight, as compared with June 1, though the actual number of laid-up vessels decreased from 45 to 43 in the same period. The failure to employ tankers is partially responsible for this state of affairs, for, on June 1, three tankers, totalling 21,900 tons, were without cargoes, while the number laid up on August 1 had mounted to 16, with a total tonnage of 180,665 dead-weight.

REFORM OF THE LEAGUE

New Zealand's Proposals

Geneva, Sept. 1.

A suggestion that the authority of the League of Nations be supported by a proportion of armed forces from its members, is contained in New Zealand's proposals for strengthening the Covenant.

Although the time-limit for proposals on reform of the Covenant expires to-day, only five countries have replied, of which the New Zealand's suggestions are the most complete.

New Zealand proposes, "inter alia," a nationwide plebiscite of all League members to decide whether they would be prepared to join automatically and immediately in sanctions, and whether, in such case, a fixed proportion of their armed forces should be automatically and immediately placed at the disposal of the League.

Sidelights And Highlights Of Air Transport

INTERESTING RADIO TALK
BY MR. M. H. CURTIS

DEVELOPMENT OF MEDICAL WORK

From the Z.B.W. Studio last night Mr. M. H. Curtis, Traffic Officer of Imperial Airways (Far East) Limited gave an interesting broadcast talk on "Sidelights and Highlights of Air Transport."

Mr. Curtis traced his subject from the days of the first prospectors some ten years ago and dealt with the rapidly developing use of air transport for medical work.

Mr. Curtis said:

In the past few years many people have written and talked of the Romance of the Air, but air transport has now become such an intimate part of our every-day existence that some of us are apt to think that the romance died with the finish of the early pioneering days—and are already beginning to look upon the operation of the network of air lines now encircling the world as a rather prosaic achievement.

But those intimately concerned with air transport know that romance still exists and are constantly witnessing strange and unusual episodes and scenes which forcibly bring home to them how this latest mode of travel and carriage is developing new ways of living, opening up new territories, and bringing inestimable benefits to mankind generally.

A traveller along the air routes cannot fail to be impressed by the way in which people who, a few years ago, would have gazed in wonder and probably with open hostility at a white man, now look with equanimity upon the regular passage of air liners through their territories.

SHARJAH

There are many such places on the Empire routes; but one of the most outstanding is Sharjah, on the northern side of Arabia. This place was once a centre of piracy and slavery and the scene of fierce inter-tribal fights, being situated on what in the old days, was known as the "Pirate Coast." Only a few years ago no white man would have dared intrude into this formidable territory and yet now a-days four great air liners a week make night-stops here, where there is a fully equipped rest-house, in which passengers can enjoy all the amenities of a first-class hotel, built somewhat on the lines of those desert outpost forts one often sees depicted in films of the Foreign Legion.

The local Sheikh of Sharjah was quick to appreciate the benefits that would result from his territory becoming an important night-stop on the Empire air routes and has provided a modern equipped yet picturesque armed guard for the rest-house; sometimes distinguished air passengers are invited to visit him at his neighbouring fort where they are served with Arab sweets and coffee and honoured by a salute of guns from some ancient cannon which probably in earlier days were used to repulse unwelcome visitors; sometimes, too, for the further entertainment of passengers there is a thrilling exhibition of Arab horsemanship.

PEARL INDUSTRY

Only one stage away from Sharjah is another romantic port of call—Bahrein. This place is the centre of the flourishing pearl industry of the Persian Gulf and here on the Island of Manama the bazaars provide a picturesque spectacle during the pearl season,—being thronged with Arabs, Persians, Indians and Iraqis—who are either buying pearls or spending the money they have earned on the diving banks. Air-liner passengers alighting at Bahrein are soon made aware that pearl-fishing is the chief local industry as the pearl-sellers come hurrying forward to offer their wares; while in the saloons of aircraft flying up and down the Gulf pearl merchants are often seen sitting together, examining their respective collections with critical eyes.

Many other examples could be quoted of the way in which air transport is opening up previously little-known territories, but a particularly emphatic example can be witnessed in the gold fields of New Guinea.

FIRST PROSPECTORS

Some ten years ago the first prospectors took nearly fourteen days to force their way from Bala-moa through the dense and almost impenetrable jungle to discover the rich gold fields in the Wau area; but faced with the almost insurmountable task of constructing a road, through the jungle for the transport of personnel, stores and equipment, and the produce of these gold fields it seemed unlikely that any profitable extractions could be made. Then someone conceived the idea of using aeroplanes; rough landing grounds were hewn out of the jungle and the 35-mile journey which hitherto took nearly two weeks was cut down to almost a few minutes and a regular air service put into operation. Since those early days aeroplanes have provided almost the only connection between the thousands of workers on the gold fields and the outside world, and one of the organisations running these air services has succeeded in carrying just over 30,000 tons of freight and well over 30,000 passengers.

Aircraft specially adapted for transporting heavy machinery were imported into New Guinea and the success of this experiment can be seen in the fact that there are now in full commission in the Buleia valley four boat-dredges, each of approximately 1500 tons displacement, each single part of these vessels and their equipment having been transported from the coast by air. Among one recent batch of cargo waiting on the aerodrome at Salamoa for despatch over the mountains were barrels of cement, tins of kerosene, bags of rice and flour, sheets of corrugated iron, metal telegraph poles, and cases of tinned food and meat from the refrigerators.

"MEDICAL SERVICES"

Another very interesting and rapidly developing use of air transport is for medical work, this being illustrated by the remarkable aerial 'medical services' of Australia. Populated areas are confined more or less to the east and south of that continent, whilst over the remainder of the country—an area larger than Western Europe—are dotted settlers whose nearest neighbours are often 100 miles away and the nearest doctor or hospital may be 200 or more miles distant. The only transport in much of this vast territory is by car over bush tracks, and in the wet season such tracks often become quagmires. Before the War a special commission was appointed to provide medical services for the remote bush districts. Nursing homes were established at various centres and even in the pre-war days the possibilities of utilising wireless and aircraft were foreseen. It was not, however, until after the war that plans in this direction began to take shape.

In 1927 a flying doctor began his work at Cloncurry and at the same time a special wireless transmitter was evolved for maintaining communication between the back-stations and the flying doctor's headquarters. Since that date this work has been greatly developed; the first base at Cloncurry was soon followed by another at Wyndham and now there are additional bases at Port Hedland, Kalgoorlie and Broken Hill. What the aeroplane can accomplish, as compared with slow and laborious surface transport, was illustrated by the case of a native runner, who, hurrying to summon medical aid, took 23 hours to cover approximately 50 miles having, during this journey, to swim two rivers. The aeroplane which carried the doctor made the same trip in less than half an hour. In another instance a woman was desperately ill at a remote station 500 miles from the nearest medical base; this station was right out in the desert country, devoid of any guiding landmarks. The doctor, by means of his wireless, instructed those at the station to light a big smoke signal, and then set off posthaste on his aerial errand of mercy. The station was duly located, thanks to the smoke signal, and the doctor arrived in time to save the woman's life.

INTERESTING SIDELIGHTS

Other interesting sidelights of air transport can be witnessed by spending a few hours at the London Terminus of the Empire routes. An inspection of the Lost Property Office reveals a strange assortment of articles, the largest collection consisting of discarded topees, of all shapes, sizes and colours, left behind by passengers returning home from Africa, India, and the East who, after leaving the areas of tropical heat, eagerly dispense with these reminders of long years spent in the 'Outposts of the Empire.' Also, the apparent beneficial effect of air travel upon bodily health can be concluded from a strange assortment disgorged from one aircraft arriving at Croydon—comprised of a tube of pills, a packet of neuralgia tablets, several bottles of medicine, and a set of false teeth!

At Croydon varied and strange cargoes can be seen arriving from, or awaiting shipment to, distant parts of the world,—medical supplies being rushed out to some dying man in Central Africa, an Act of Parliament sent to England for Royal signature, mangoes from Egypt, boxes of day-old chicks, valuable pedigree dogs, whilst boxes of bullion are regularly shipped by air owing to the great saving of time and the consequent minimizing of loss of interest on the gold.

DAILY MAINTENANCE

Leaving the Shipping Department and proceeding to the engineering workshops one enters a hive of ceaseless, well ordered activity. In addition to the constant daily maintenance, every aircraft engine at the end of a set period—usually six or seven hundred hours running—goes back into the shops for complete overhaul. It is taken to pieces, examined by experts, and is provided with any new parts that may be considered necessary. It is then re-assembled and subjected to test-bench runs which reproduce the most arduous conditions of actual flying. Then, and not till then, when every detail has been checked and the motor enters on a new lease of life, is it passed out for another spell of service in the air.

Many people who have never indulged in air travel imagine that to travel for several days in an aircraft cabin must be rather boring, but so far is this from the truth, and passengers are so thrilled by the new and ever-changing vistas opened up to them that they often endeavour to record their sensations in 'pen pictures.'

A recent air voyager writes: "The last mail bag goes aboard. The last passenger arrives. The saloon door is closed. The engines wait to a more vigorous life and punctual to the minute our air-liner taxis out. Faster the motors run. There comes a gentle floating sensation. We leave the earth and soar skyward. Like some huge bird our great craft circles. Then it settles smoothly on its course." Flying across Africa he finds the romance heightened by never-to-be-forgotten glimpses of wild animals in natural surroundings and writes:

"The sun is up. The desert lies behind. I and my fellow travellers become excited as game appears below. Herds of buck scamper in all directions. We see ostriches, hyenas, and innumerable small animals. Sometimes the cry of 'rhinos' is raised and one may be just in time to see two or three of these monsters crashing through the bush. Crocodiles lie basking on river banks. A hippopotamus may be seen in one of the rivers. Then there are the herds of elephants, and sometimes—that is, if you are lucky—you catch sight of lions. And it is not a spectacle you are likely to forget to see a group of lions, young and old, standing below in the African sunshine."

It is of such thrills as these and many others that Empire air voyages are now composed and our passenger summaries it in this way:

"As you roar through space you look down on mountains, forests, bush, and swamp. From your saloon you watch the sun rise over the heart of deserts. The clouds may envelope you, and you rush through a strange world high above the earth. After which, as evening falls, may come a landing just on the fringe of some vast forest. It is romance, all this—a romance of speed, of colour, and of all those wonderful panoramas which unfold themselves continually beneath your windows."

THRILLING RESCUE

Thirteen Persons Saved On Falling From Junk

A large crowd of music-lovers who thronged the Bund Garden, Shanghai, on August 23, became spectators of a thrilling rescue on the Whangpoo, when a junk, loaded with sand, took a heavy list, throwing the entire crew and their families, thirteen persons in all, into the water. Launches and sampans in the vicinity hurried to their aid, and, although three tons of cargo were lost, no fatality was reported.

The accident occurred shortly before 6 p.m., when a concert by the now very popular Municipal Brass Band was in progress. A coastal steamer was passing the Public Garden, and the pleasantly

Now is the time to visit Australia & New Zealand lands of Sunshine and Romance. "Down Under" you will feel a new being and even if you are not inclined towards Surfing, Fishing, Shooting or Mountaineering you will find that the Antipodes have plenty to offer you—including 35° for your pound.

On the way down your life aboard will be as you wish, quiet or hectic for the P. & O. will honour your every wish.
And by the way, there is no additional charge for Deck Cabins and there is of course a Sun Deck swimming pool, an Orchestra and a fine Laundry.

A Surgeon and Stewards are at your disposal and last but not least—we had almost forgotten—the cuisine will set you listening eagerly for the Cook.

Regular monthly sailings from Hong Kong to Shanghai and Japan and Hong Kong to Australia.
